Similar examples help most on puzzles that have a close variant in TRAIN;
random examples give a smaller gain that does not depend on closeness